Supt. Roy gave an update on the Preschool program from 2022. Although they didn't receive the funding for a building, they have a plan to rearrange some class rooms at Eisenhower so they can still offer preschool to the community. He set up a booth at the Norton County Careers and Community Culture Fest on April 1. He wasn't able to fill any positions from this event but believes it is an important and positive asset to our community. Supt. Roy presented information on the 360 project that was previously discussed so the BOE had a better understanding of the project. He also stated the state is running behind with their audit.	Supt. Report
Dr Sue Jenkins, Educational Consultant, has been working with Jeremy Hawks and the rest of the USD 211 staff to prepare for the Kansas Education System Accreditation review.
